EXPLANATIONS

■ Regarding the whitelist

The occupations were selected based on the Federal Employment Agency's skilled-worker bottleneck analysis, which is available online at the following location: www.arbeitsagentur.de/Arbeitsmarktberichte>Fachkräftebedarf und Stellen>Aktuelle Fachkräfteengpassanalyse

The bottleneck analysis occurs under the focus of nationwide bottlenecks, supplemented by a regional perspective on the level of the Länder. These occupation categories are marked with an *.

For the whitelist pursuant to section 6 para. 2 sentence 1 no. 2 of the Employment Regulation, occupations from the skilled-worker bottleneck analysis were selected for which no other possibilities of labourmarket entry exist, e.g. the EU Blue Card for academics.

The newly added occupation categories are underlined.

The skilled workers bottleneck analysis is updated every six months. The next bottleneck analyses will be published in the 2nd half of 2018. The whitelist is only to be updated, however, if two consecutive reviews of the available information indicate that the list should be changed.

■ Regarding the qualification level

Qualification level 2 – Skilled worker – corresponds to a professionally oriented activity that requires at least two years of vocational training or a similar qualification.

Qualification level 3 – Specialist – comprises occupations whose practitioners require specialist knowledge and skills that usually necessitate training as a master craftsman or technician or an equivalent technical college or university degree.

General information on labourmarket entry for foreign applicants is available online at: www.arbeitsagentur.de/arbeitsmarktzulassung.

The following list contains individual recognised training occupations and activities as a clarification of the whitelist. The job titles were taken from the Federal Employment Agency's BERUFENET database.

YOUR PATH TO GERMANY AS A SKILLED WORKER

The Employment Regulation (BeschV), which entered into force on 1 July 2013, laid the foundations for easing the immigration process for skilled workers coming to Germany.

According to section 6 para. 2 sentence 1 no. 2 of the Regulation, consent may be granted for foreign nationals who acquired their professional qualification abroad to undertake employment corresponding to the professional qualification in a state-recognised or similarly regulated occupation, provided that the authority responsible for the recognition of professional qualifications according to federal or state regulations has determined the equivalence of the professional qualification to a German vocational training programme and the Federal Employment Agency has determined, after taking account of regional considerations, that the filling of vacancies with foreign applicants is justifiable for the corresponding occupation or occupational groups with regard to labour market and integration policy.

Consent is granted without the fundamentally required check of whether workers with preferential rights are available to fill the vacancy. However, the offered terms of employment must correspond to those of comparable German workers.

Following on from the “EU Blue Card” scheme for highly qualified persons, the improved recognition of foreign professional qualifications and easier entry-level opportunities for students from non-EU countries, the white-list is an important further step in giving workers from third countries straightforward access to the German labour market and in meeting the German economy’s demand for skilled workers by taking in qualified immigrants.

WHAT’S NEXT FOR YOU AS A WORKER?

If you have found your occupation in the “List of occupations” and you would like to work in your trained occupation in Germany, you must now find out whether your training is equivalent to a vocational training programme in Germany. You can find out whether this is the case, as well as how and where you can apply to have the equivalence of your qualification determined, by visiting the website: „Recognition in Germany“.

Once this check is completed and you have been issued with a certificate from the relevant authority confirming the equivalence of your training to a German programme of education, you may, upon presentation of this certificate, apply for an entry visa at a German diplomatic mission or consular post in your home country. If you are already living in Germany or can travel there without a visa, then the immigration office (Ausländerbehörde) in your municipality is responsible for you.

It may be the case that in order to determine the equivalence of your qualification you will need to obtain additional theoretical skills and/or work experience in Germany. If you have a residence title (Aufenthaltstitel), under section 17a of the Residence Act (AufenthG) you are permitted to enter Germany to do a training programme for a duration of up to 18 months if such a programme is required in order to determine the equivalence of your qualification. In addition to doing the training programme, you are also permitted to work up to 10 hours a week independently of such a programme. In the case of a job that is closely related on an occupational level to the occupation you intend to carry out in the future, there are no time limits in relation to doing such work.

If you have a residence title (Aufenthaltstitel) under section 17a of the Residence Act you can also enter Germany if you need to sit an examination that is required in order to determine the equivalence of your foreign qualification.

If only evidence of work experience, but not obtaining additional theoretical skills, is needed to determine the equivalence of your qualification, you may, with the agreement of the Federal Employment Agency, be granted a residence title (Aufenthaltstitel) for the purpose of working (section 18 of the Residence Act (AufenthG) in conjunction with section 8 of the Employment Regulation (BeschV)).
